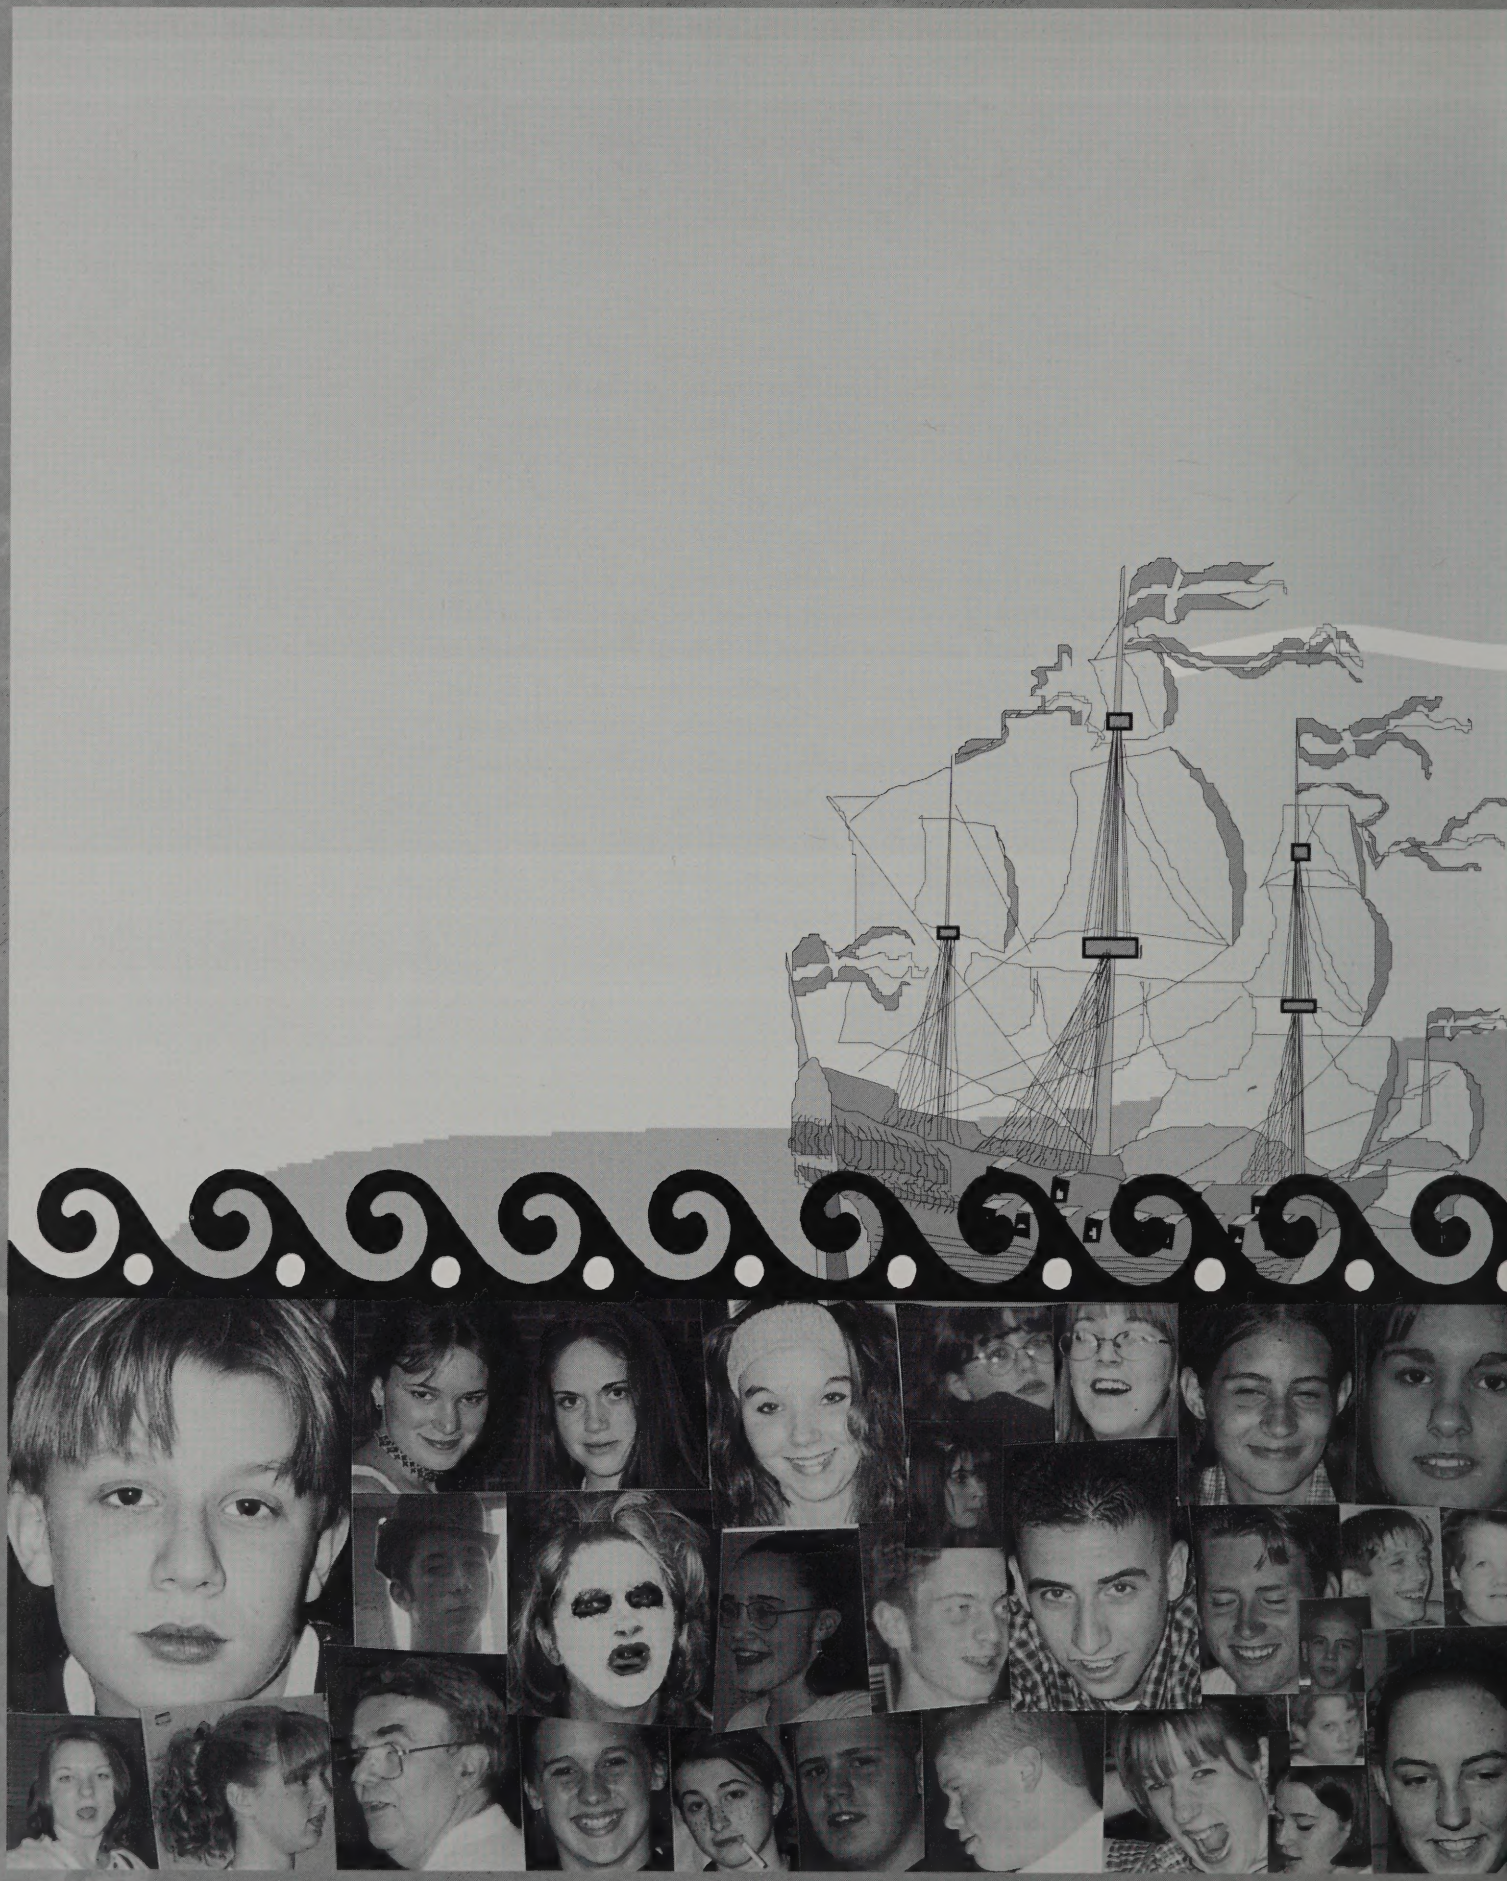
RAVELINS

Shaping the Shore

Life began in the ocean eons ago, as simple one-celled creatures. Over time, ocean life evolved; each generation leaving behind a legacy that contributed to the success and continuation of the existence of all future generations.

The thread of life at Oxford High School began its ravelings seventy-nine years ago with the first publication of a literary magazine and yearbook in 1920. Every class who ever attended Oxford High School, is part of that legacy that continues to shape all of our lives and who we are as individuals today. When we work together towards our goals with the guidance of teachers, friends and family, we gain the power to endure the waves that crash upon us. The decisions we make, shape the shore of our destiny.

MAKING Waves



Ocean Life

The ocean would be a very uninteresting place were it not for the plethora of life forms that inhabit its depths and dance in its currents. In the same way, a school cannot be defined as only a building. Like a school of fish, it is described by its participants and the activities in which they engage. This yearbook marks only one year in the life of a school. Generations of students have moved through these hall's leaving an enduring legacy that continues to influence its inhabitants and traditions, today and tomorrow.

Faculty Life Preservers

Teachers can be compared to life preservers.

Type I (Off-shore life jacket)

These are your teachers that are always at school and always giving a helping hand.

Type II (Special use device)

These are your team coaches. These men and women are a leading force in Oxford team sports. They come in many different shapes and sizes.

Type III (Throwable device)

These are the wonderful people who keep the school clean. Also known as the janitorial staff.

There are many reasons that people should rely on Life preservers. The men and women who teach you every day, in some ways, can be your own life preservers. You have to treat them with respect and do your work to keep them floating nearby. So the next time you are drowning in school work remember, there are always life preservers to save you.

Committed to Excellence

Dedication is difficult to be defined. It measures an individual's commitment to excellence. A yearbook dedication can not be bought or sold, for it has to be earned. The class of 1999 believes that Mr. Doldoorian, Coach D, has done just that. Through his 20 years of teaching and coaching, he has shown his students and players that he is a hardworking and devoted person.

Over the years Mr. Doldoorian has taught history and psychology. The students look forward to his classes because he makes learning interesting and memorable. His psychology classes are renowned for their experiments and the hypnotist assembly.

During the years he has been a superior leader in athletics. As the former athletic director, football, and track coach and the present basketball coach, he has led all of his teams to many victories. One of his greatest accomplishments was coaching the Lady Pirates and bringing them to two consecutive State Championships.

Mr. Doldoorian's dedication to his team and his classes inspires us to work harder to reach our goals. He is not only a teacher, coach, and mentor but also a true friend.

A Tale of Two Fish

Although Miss Thomas is not a permanent teacher, she deserves some recognition. Last spring she took over for Mr. Hazelwood as a substitute teacher for his history classes and will continue to teach them throughout this year.

She is a graduate from Clark University and attended Marianapolis Preparatory School in Thompson, Connecticut. History and teaching have been her passions since she was a child. She has taught at numerous grade levels and high school is her favorite. Therefore, she loves her teaching job at O.H.S.

Mr. Hazelwood is a popular teacher and we all miss him very much. Miss Thomas is doing an excellent job teaching in his place and we are lucky to have her. -Katie Grondin

I Love Grammar

Throughout her twenty-eight years of service, Ms. Chamberlain has been dedicated to helping her students appreciate the literature of some of the world's greatest writers. During our junior year, we had the opportunity to study many of Edgar Allen Poe's more notable works.

Ms. Chamberlain has always insisted that her students be persistent in their use of proper grammar. At times we may not agree with her theory of complete and punctuated sentences, but we realize she is doing us a favor by preparing us for college and the future. In the upcoming years, our college professor and employers will not be as lenient if our term papers, reports, and resumes fail to contain perfect grammar.

Among all of the reading, writing, tests, and intellectual discussions, Ms. Chamberlain has no objections to having a little fun, so long as the class deserves it. On occasion we play Pictionary or Chauvinistic Pig, which are always lots of fun. However, our all time favorite game is the Word Game. It's an excellent way to escape from traditional academics for a day, but it is also an exciting way for us to expand our vocabulary.

Someday, while we are reflecting on our high school days, we will remember Ms. Chamberlain standing at her beloved podium reciting a quote from a famous short story- "Doom is dark and deeper than any sea-dingle," (W.H. Auden).

We now find ourselves wishing there was a proper way to express our deep gratitude for all of the wonderful vocabulary lessons, thrilling novels, and interesting games that made our high school English class a most memorable experience. -Jamie Ward and Shelley Joppas

Ms. Langevin, Mr. Palmerino, and Mr. Witkowski all came crashing into Oxford High School like a wave into the seashore. They are Oxford High's newest teachers.

Ms. Langevin comes from Webster, Massachusetts and went to Bartlett High School. She then attended Nichols College and is currently enrolled at Worcester State College. Oxford High School is her first teaching job. She coaches junior varsity girls' soccer and teaches eighth grade history and English.

Mr. Palmerino is originally from Massachusetts. He attended Clark University and received his masters degree from Worcester State College. Following graduation he taught German at Wachusett Regional High School in Holden. Then he moved and taught in Florida. When he moved back to Massachusetts, he worked as a substitute teacher until accepting the math position at Oxford High School.

Mr. Witkowski received his teaching degree from Resselar Polytechnic Institute. Then he taught for two years in Virginia Beach. He is the eighth grade class advisor and teaches eighth grade mathematics and science.

These three new teachers are a welcome addition to Oxford High School. They have already made a place for themselves with the students and the faculty. Their students hope that they stay for many more years.

Senior Starfish

We are the starfish, the "phylum echnodermata." We are as ancient as our name, resting between the rocks and corals of the ocean. Unlike our younger sea-friends ,we choose not to dwell near the surface, where their journey is just beginning. Wandering the sandy depths, we exist as an independent species. With our arms outstretched, we yearn for a chance to break free from the swallowing tide. At the coast, we watch as the waves crash over us, almost ready to emerge into a bigger world beyond the sea.

Captain Duke

For the past five years, the class of 1999 has had the privilege of being guided by an inspirational man. He is not only a teacher and a coach, but a trusted friend, near and dear to the seniors. When we entered O.H.S. neither he nor we had any idea what to expect. It was Mr. Shaune Ducharme's (better known as "Duke") first year teaching and our first year at O.H.S.. Throughout the years, he has been an outstanding leader to us all, sacrificing his own time to cart us around for needed supplies, staying late to set up for semi-formals, and guiding us through the years of homecoming celebrations. These are only a few of the many examples of his dedication to the class of 1999. In closing, the class of 1999 would like to thank him for all he has done for us. As years pass and we look back on the many memorable moments experienced at Oxford High, Mr. Shaune Ducharme will always be fondly remembered.

Under the Sea ... with style

On April 4, 1998, the cafeteria was transformed into an underwater kingdom, fully equipped with bubbles. The decorations consisted of seaweed, seashells, fish, and they were made complete with Japanese fighting fish as centerpieces on the tables. Balloons hung from the ceiling in a giant fish net. Prom-goers ate buffet style chicken Parmesan and salad with ice cream for dessert. Following dinner, they danced the night away including our theme song, "My Heart Will Go On," theme song from Titanic by Celine Dion. The court included Kristel Garrow, Jason Firmin, Katie Murphy, Dondrae May, Shalyn Polinski, Ben Sturgell, Nicole White, Chris Santimaw, Kristy Roderick, and Tony Sheard. Jason and Kristel reigned as king and queen of the enchanted evening. Special thanks goes to Alysia Monaco for her exceptional hard work that made the evening a great success. The members of the junior class experienced true Enchantment Under the Sea, a night we won't forget.

Waves of Friendship

I feel friendship is a bond one has with one or many people. Although friendship has many waves and breaks, if you are a true friend, you'll always be around and never let those waves and breaks stand in your way. Josh Boyda agrees, "A true friend sticks around, no matter what happens." Jason Brassard says, "A real friend dismisses your faults and looks at your better qualities." Oxford is a close school and everyone gets along. Jamie Mayer states, "Our school is more together than other schools in our area." The nature of our student body could be compared with that of the killer whale; they stick up for one another. The close relationships built at O.H.S. can withstand any tidal wave that comes their way.

School of Friends

Tina Martin, Stephanie Brooks

What you are holding in front of you is a collection of memories. This paper and ink, however, could never lock in these thoughts as well as lasting friendships. High school is a place where we can meet some of the best friends of our lives. As you look back on the moments held in this book, you recall those moments with a smile. But when you turn these pages with a friend by your side, you can feel the emotions all over again. You can relive the events that you shared with your friends so much more vividly than by yourself.

The word "friendship" can't be defined by any single statement. It refers to sharing, trust, laughter, connections, etc. In short, friends know each other because they let down their facades and open up to each other as people. Whether it is between two people or among a circle of twenty, friendship is a very strong relationship and is important to us all. Friends facilitate the hardest times and make the best time absolutely incredible. Friendship is sugar for the soul, a sweetness few can deny.

Fish Food

Senior privileges began early in the school year. On October thirtieth, some of our favorite teachers treated us to french toast, scrambled eggs, fruit cups, lots of bacon, juice, and milk. Mrs. Lilley, Mrs. VanWart, Mr. Doldoorian, Mr. Ducharme, Mrs. Casagranda, and Mrs. Lawrence were some of the teachers who gave up their morning. The food was excellent and we were all very grateful.

On November fourth, J. Francis Clouthier, Oxford's reliable hypnotist, came to wow the classes who took psychology or patterns of behavior with Mr. Doldoorian. The students first had a group relaxation exercise. Then some students were chosen to take it a little further. Nick Daviau, Heather Bessey, Rob Phillipo, Katie Murphy, Azim Mohammed, Tyshawn Ruiz, and Jamie Mayer went from riding on the highway to licking ice cream. Everyone had a wonderful time laughing at classmates. —Hilary Tobin

Junior Fire Coral

Fire Coral is a type of coral, that when touched gives off a rather painful burning toxin. Fire Coral is one of the beautiful creatures in the sea. It is tough and can take care of itself. In many ways this years junior class is like fire coral. We may not be at the top of the food chain but, we can hold our own in a sea of compition. We can fend for ourselves with a 'don't mess with us' attitude. As the class of 2000 we know that the new millenium means big things. We will for the first time be able to vote in a presidental election, also that year many of us will be going off to college.

The junior class has many different people as types of fish. We are athletes, artists, scholars, etc. Trying to make a positive impact on the world around us though such groups as NHS, NJROTC, and student council is also something we do. Soon we will be at the top but our years at Oxford will prepare us for whatever there may be. We still may be small fish in the vast sea, but we are ready to swim on our own.

A Wave of Adventure

Thanks to the efforts of Brian Hamel , and others, the Adventure II program was added to the schedule for the 1998-1999 school year. It has brought many important outdoor assets down to a level we can use. This class provides valuable training in many outdoor activities.

Activities like rappelling, climbing, lead climbing, belaying, setting up and taking down of outdoor equipment, tying crucial knots, and staying fit are all important parts of this class. Mr. Heschele's efforts have proven to be effective. He often lets us do the work needed, and to learn from our own mistakes.

Overall, Adventure II has played an important role in the life of the juniors and seniors who participate in the class. We are learning skills that will come in handy later in life. This class is a lot of fun and everyone who liked project adventure should definitely take this class.

To Sea, or not to Sea..

The wide open sea us an underwater performance. Every fish in the school has it's own part to play and our school is no different. A new course was added to the schedule that allowed one class of students to take on new and different roles: theatre and drama.

In addition to performing plays and musicals, we learn about stage language and the history of the theatre. Of course we also do a lot of acting. For a project we had to divide into groups and write an original ten minute skit. The skit was then passed along to another group to be produced. When the skits in our opinion, were perfected, Mr. Bagget, our teacher, taped each performance and gave us hints on how to make it better. Once the entire class had watched the skits we had our own small town version of the Tony Awards. With such categories as "Most spastic performance" and "Best cross dresser (in a performance not in real life)" it was lots of fun. Our class has also been given the privilege of performing the annual fall play and musical production.

Anyone with even a slight interest in theatre should definitely take this class. It is a great experience and will have you craving "the lime light" so to speak. -Carolyn Bates & Heather Aquafresca

Rings Around the Rosie

The class of 2000 decided to try something new for their class ring ceremony... Why not get them as Sophomores? So that's what we did. We started the planning during the early winter, went to the ring company's plant (where they make the rings) in the early spring, and by June we had our class rings!

So in early June 1998, our sophomore year we received our rings with a make-your-own-sundae theme. But first we went outside for some fun. Outside we played some games like an egg toss and water balloon contests. Then we all came inside to have some ice cream sundaes. People could choose from extras like cherries, nuts, jimmies, and whipped cream.

Nevertheless everyone has a blast and will always remember high school and all the fun we had when they look at their class ring. -Joel Daoust

Sophomore Anemones

The sophomore class swam out of the deep, shark-infested waters of the sea of eigth and ninth graders into the shallow waters. The sophomores have begun to emerge into the sunlight of the real world.

As eigth and ninth grades, we were teased by bigger sharks of the high school sea, but now we have worked ourselves up the tide and have settled ourselves into the shallow waters. We are starting to separate ourselves from the rest of the ocean into our own pools by becoming more responsible and more creative. We are not yet ready to move out of our tidal pools and we are still clinging to the rocky shores at the familiar depths.

We, as a class, are compared to the sea anemones which don't draw much attention to themselves and they still have not yet evolved onto the sandy beaches of the dry and steady land.

Dudes and Chicks

The Sadie Hawkin's Dance was held on Friday evening, November 20, 1998, from 6:30 until 10:30 and was sponsored by the National Honor Society. Everyone was encouraged to wear something having to do with the dance's theme, Woodstock Revisited.

The Sadie Hawkin's Dance is a dance to which the girls ask the guys. This is a good idea because it is becoming more common now for girls to ask the guys to dances. According to tradition, on one day each year, women could ask men to marry them and they would have to say yes.

The music at the dance was great. The National Honor Society did an awesome job decorating the cafeteria. The successful outcome of the dance was shown by the number of people enjoying the dance. It is definitely something to look forward to next year. - Melanie Peterson

Bonjour!

In the Spring of 1998, the class of 2001 took a class trip to Quebec, Canada. It took two splattered buses eight hours to deliver us at our destination - The Loews Concorde Hotel. It was a nice hotel - with a nice French speaking staff. We communicated quite nicely considering the circumstances. Pancake Guy, however was not French.

The breakfast buffet was tasty despite the orange drought. The hotel rooms were comfy and large. The bathrooms were huge and full of goodies to take home. There were lots of fun gadgets to play with, like the clothesline, the hair dryer, and the telephone. The revolving doors were fun to play with, too. Overall, our class had a swell time running around the hotel in Quebecois. -Sarah Cierpich and Ashely Hokanson.

Strange Days

Our sophomore class has a side that few have seen except the people who went on the Quebec trip. The immaturity level that we are capable of was astonishing. But that made the trip all the more fun!

There are hilarious stories to tell about almost every place we went to. A lot of people were scared crossing the bridge over Montmorency Falls, but many of those people came out victorious on the other side. Surely those who went can remember the Indian at the mystery theater. Stories of teacher antics on the dance cruise are still making me laugh. And a certain few will never forget the taco phone story. Running chaperoneless through the streets of Quebec was considered by many the highlight of the trip.

We would all like to thank Mr. Boucher for taking us and putting up with all our complaining, especially when it was pouring rain. -Sarah Cierpich & Ashley Hokanson

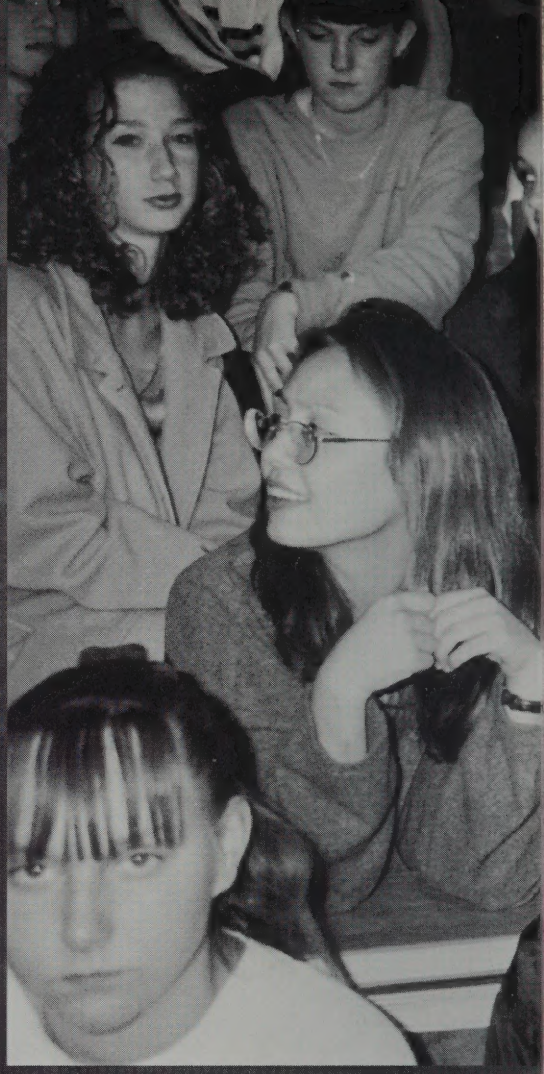
Zealots of Homecoming



Homecoming is always a lot of fun for our class. Andrea Mandella and Ben Cormier sold huge ice cream sundaes. Rachael Gasset was the fried dough queen. Sarah Cierpich and Kaitlyn Brenner were the sausage grinder princesses. We ran games including a lollipop tree, a raffle, and a mini-golf hole.

A lot of people showed up to help decorate the gym the day before, and tons of sophomores helped our class out by selling stuff. The rally was fun, and our class had a lot of spirit. Our yellow side of the gym was the brightest. This was out class's best homecoming yet. -Ashley Hokanson and Sarah Cierpich

Freshman Urchins

It goes about its daily business, laying low to the ground, not quite as aggressive as those higher in the food chain, yet not as vulnerable as those below it. However, it has its own means to defend and protect itself and the delicate part within. Does this sound more like a freshman or the sea urchin? The similarties are incredable.

We freshmen are no longer barnacles clinging to the rocks and the bottom of ships, or rather eighth graders confined to the lower level of the high school. We are now urchins, free to move across and explore the ocean floor! O.K., maybe it's not quite that exciting, but we are freshmen, who now have classes in the upstairs part of the building, making us familar with nearly the entire high school.

We are not the same new and inexperienced eighth graders. We freshmen have developed sharp barbs to protect us and keep us strong. Granted, somedays we are "chewed up" by domineering preditors, or rather overwhelming resposibilties and setbacks, i.e. enormous amounts of homework, after-school jobs and activities, lack of sleep, indigestion from the school food, and even (when we ever find it in our busy schedules) emotional or personal problems. However, not everything is bad, and we are learning to adapt. We even use our "barbs" to protect the smaller creatures, usually eighth grade friends and/or family members.

Although this is our second year in the Oxford High School building, it is only the first year of our high school career. That means things will only get harder as the years go on. It's encouraging however, that as we move up, we will become the more agressive preditors (preferably sharks) and we'll be able to face our our problems with more vigor and enthusiasm, which hopefully will make things move along more smoothly.

Lunch time is probably the only time at school when most students can sit back, have real conversations with friends, and feed that hunger that's been gnawing at us since fourth period. Although this year, we freshmen no longer have our own seperate lunch, we still manage to find to hang out with friends, some older or younger, and those we've known the longest—other freshmen. Mini-Boot Camp

As freshmen, we can experience and appreciate certain things that we couldn't in eighth grade. One of these is NJROTC, which is only offered to grades nine through twelve. Another is the many accomplishments of the Oxford NJROTC unit, and witnessing the growth of their trophy collection. This year, those of us who are in NJROTC are experiencing what it feels like to be a part of the team and to contribute to the success of it. In order to achieve something one must start somewhere.

Most freshmen cadets were welcomed into the unit and taught the basics at the beginning of school. However, eight freshmen took advantage of the opportunity of getting a head start by going to a three-day mini boot camp held right here at the high school during the summer from August 3-5, 1998. We learned unarmed drill...(far left, top) Erin McNeil, Amanda Fafard, and Joseph Mayer teach the platoon (freshmen cadets, Michelle Monahan, Josh Maesto, Catherine Guerine, Justin Bennett, Susan Kozlowski, Shawn O'Neil, Andrew Rice, and Betsy Skrip) how to stand at attention. ...and armed drill. Older cadet Michael Vigeant commands a rifle salute. Some cadets decided to take the physical training tests, which involve doing a certain number of curl-ups and push-ups, and also running 1.5 miles in a limited amount of time. Joe Mayer, Josh Maesto, Justin Benett, Andrew Rice, Michelle Monahan, and Amanda Fafard warm up for the P.T. tests. Justin Bennett won a ribbon for his excellent results on the P. T. test.

The time we spent was both fun and interesting, and what we learned gave us a boost ahead for when we came back to school. It also earned us our first ribbons. (Bottom right) Lt. commander Miliner (far left) and Commander Masely (far right) pose with older cadets (back row) Amanda Fafard and Joe Mayer, freshmen Andrew Rice, Bety Skrip, Michelle Monahan, older cadets Michael Vigeant and Jesslyn Monahan. (Front row) older cadet Erin McNelil and freshmen Shawn O'Neil, Catherine Guerin, Joshua Maesto, Justin Bennett, and Susan Kozlowski, as they display their certificates and mini boot camp ribbons.

The extra practice gave us an advantage. Some of the freshmen who were at the mini-boot camp joined th drill team and/or color guard, such as (left) Justin Bennet, who is dressed in his color guard uniform. We also had a lot of fun, and that makes it worth all the while.

Eighth Grade Barnacles

Barnacles? Eighth graders? Do I see a resemblance here? If you were a sea creature, what would you be? "Oh, I dunno," you answer with a shrug. "A dolphin? shark? whale?" You're an 8th grader? "Yes," you reply, Ha! Try a barnacle. Here are the reasons why!

You see, barnacles cling to larger objects, as some 8th graders attach themselves to upper classmen. Being the lowest grade in the school, lost in the belly of the OHS halls and ground in the teeth of freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors, you are much like the barnacle, who is a low form of life and isn't too high on the food chain.

You, also like the tiny crustacean, need protection- a shell. Maybe barnacles aren't bombarded by homework, teachers, and older schoolmates, but they need shielding just the same. Barnacles are also fairly primitive as the 8th grader isn't yet wise to the ways of the school. Although I don't expect to find you attached to the bottom of a boat of a boat eating micro-organisms (that probably taste better than school lunch anyway), I hope you've realized how much we 8th graders have in common with the barnacle. However, if you don't exactly appreciate being this low on a food chain, unlike a barnacle, you won't stay one forever. What's next ... freshman... urchin... so much better, right?

Lunch Time

Lunch time is the best part of the day for the eighth graders, because that means talking to your friends about anything and everything and not being in class. It's also the best time of the day because we only have one more period of the day left until we can go home.

The hardest part about lunch is having the last lunch period of the day. Sometimes, the cafeteria runs out of the food you are looking forward to eating. Waiting six whole periods before eating seems like forever. That is also a long ttime to wait to talk to friends and make plans for the afternoon. -Leanna Grimes and Nicole Ellis

Gold Fish

For the past twenty years Project C.O.F.F.E.E. (Cooperative Federation for Educational Experience) has been the gold fish of Oxford High School. They have resided next to Oxford High like a little school inside a larger school. The program was intiated for high schoolers who do not learn well in a traditional academecic enviroment. Project C.O.F.F.E.E. provides an opportunity for students to learn job skills along with academics.

Many students travel more than an 1/2 hour to school, because students come from eighteen different school districts. The students enjoy the flexibility that Project C.O.F.F.E.E. offers. Most of the students never considered graduating from High School before they enrolled in the program. Now, they are learning on the job skills and are working towards a diploma. -Katie Grondin and Christin Hawkins

Current Events

The waves on the surface only begin to tell the story about the activities that take place in the depths. Since the beginning of time, students have connected themselves through activities and athletics in order to establish friendships, to find a sense of belonging, or to learn the values of teamwork. These "current events" surge into all aspects of student life. Looking back, we will find lasting memories of the accomplishments in which we took part.

What a year it was. This year the schools groups went all out, and attracted the most people in the last 3 years. The groups stepped it up this year coming up with new ideas and a ton of new foods.

One of the best games that came out of homecoming was the traditional pie throwing contest. Students got to toss a pie at the great teachers that they loved to hate, but it was all in good favor of course.

Homecoming turned out great for almost everyone. Classes and groups made money the field hockey team almost won, the girls soccer team kicked butt and the football team whooped Leicester. Congratulations to all the groups and classes that made money and thanks to all the OHS teams that gave their best. -Bryan Hamel

A Step in the Right Direction...

Students Against Destructive Decisions began a successful year by first electing new officers. Eric Olson was elected President, Jill Odgren-Vice President, Nina Beaudry-Treasurer, Lori Larson-secretary, and Heather Aquafresca-Public Relations. SADD continued its campaign to raise awareness in the community by its various activities. Red ribbons were tied to every car antenna at the homecoming game in order to remind people to be safe. SADD also wrote, directed, produce, and acted out its first play, "What's Wrong with Tray?", under the great leadership of Heather Aquafresca, in order to raise the awareness of the devastating effects of smoking. The SADD program had grown immensely this and will continue to grow with the determination of its members.Thank you everyone! - Eric Olson

The peer mediators are students selected by the faculty that display a good sense of character. These students train for six hours a day, for three days, with Mrs. Lawrence and Miss O'Brien. In training, they learn all the techniques on how to be a successful mediator.

Peer mediation is a program provided through the school that allows students to help solve their peer's problems. The process is a completely confidential one that is geared not at punishing the students, but merely helping them solve their problems. Above all, peer mediation is a fun learning experience that will have a positive effect on the rest of their lives.

Community Support

Our student council is made up of students from each grade. Each of these students is honored to have been elected by their class mates to represent them in the school and in the community.

Through the leadership of our officers, President Ben Sturgell, Secretaries Nicole King and Colleen Halsdorff, Vice President Bryan Hamel, Treasurer Heather Aquafresca, and our council advisor Mr. Constanzo, we have worked together in a responsible and caring way. The dedication of the students on the council enables us to look beyond ourselves and to the needs of our fellow students and community. We coordinate and run the annual fall homecoming and senior citizen's Valentine dinner. We held a successful can drive, contributing over 2400 canned goods to the hurricane Mitch victims in Honduras.

We thank our classmates for giving us the opportunity to represent them, and I thank all the student council reps for caring and working to better our school and community. - Ben Sturgell

Defending Honor

The National Honor Society is composed of students in grades 10-12 who have been recognized by their teachers as having demonstrated good character, leadership, citizenship, and strong scholastic abilities.

As a group we have reached out to the community in several service projects, our main service project was the October Pumpkin Spectacular, where NHS was represented by students all nine nights. We've held fund raisers, and this year we enjoyed various field trips.

President Kristal Garrow, Vice President Ben Sturgell, Treasurer Colleen Halsdorff, Secretary Zareen Lackani, Parliamentarian Eric Olson, and Historian Colleen Flynn, as well as all members have worked hard to make a difference at OHS and the community of Oxford while maintaining high academic standards.

A special thanks goes to our beloved advisor, Senora Blazis. -Ben Sturgell

Flo ating to the Top

The Oxford High School Junior National Honor Society has a total of eighty-one students. There are twenty-seven ninth grade members and fifty-four eighth grade members. This is our third year in operation as having a Junior National Honor Society; and we are proud of the number of members in our society.

The ninth grade president is Troy Mercier, and the president for the eighth grade is Paul Tortoa. Our group holds frequent meetings to discuss fundraisers and ways to help the community. Mrs. Beresic is our advisor and helps us immensely in preparing our fundraisers and community service projects. She is responsible for the growth of our members.

Determination and hard work are among the greatest qualities our members have. Our recent fundraiser was a bake sale that was very successful. Not only do we have fun doing the work we do, but we also learn lessons of friendship and responsibility that we will use for the rest of our lives. -Troy Mercier

Future Teachers

A brand new addition to the clubs in Oxford is the Tommorow's Teachers Club. The club is offered to Spanish IV students and National Honor Soceity's tutors. The officers include President Devin Wolfe, Vice President Jane Loranger, Secretary Amy Brousseau, and Treasurer Dondrae May. Lead by Mrs. Blazis, the Spanish students teach third graders at Chaffee School Spanish each week. The N.H.S. members help students who are having trouble with their subjects. It is a great opportunity for Oxford students to get hands-on experience with teaching children. Teaching children also gives students a greater appreciation of what our teachers go through daily. More students should continue to sign up because this is an extremely honorable profession that yeilds a great deal of good feelings. - Shelley Joppas

Mount Wachusett also offers ski and snowboard rentals and lessons for all levels of skiers or snowboards so if you don't know you can go and learn. Ski club starts the first Wednesday of January and continues for six weeks. We leave right after school, we take the bus so transportation isn't a problem. Top Notch

During the 1998-1999 school year, the rock climbing club multiplied in numbers by almost three times as many members as previous years. Motivated by our fearless leader, Mr. Hescheles, we travelled to places like Rattlesnake Rock, Ross Cliffs, Purgatory Chasm, and Crow Hill in both Conneticutt and Massachusetts. In the fall the club spent an entire day in Conneticutt climbing and hiking. We also worked in the Booster Club Booth at the football game to raise money for Polartec fleece coats. Last spring, Mr. Hescheles taught promising students how to climb the "lead." As a club, we would like to thank Mr. Hescheles for all his unpaid time he spends teaching us.

Braving the Waves

The yearbook staff is a very unique group. We alone take on the task of recording and preserving the precious memories of our high school years with as much style as possible. While on the yearbook staff many of us learn a lot of responsibility and also a little bit about ourselves. We owe a lot of this to our extraordinary advisor, Mrs. Briody. We have worked really hard on this yearbook. It took hours and hours each day either sitting in front of a computer or keeping sales records straight to make this a successful project. Thanks to our staff's determination and the cooperation of everyone remembered on the pages, this yearbook has the power to unite us as a class for years to come. -Christin Hawkins

In the Navy

The Naval Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps has just had its fourth exciting year. Early on in the school year we had already excelled in several activities. We have received outstanding results from our annual inspection. Our drill team earned first place for overall events in its first drill competition. Also our marksmanship and academic teams have enrolled in several postal matches and are preceding to do extremely well in both areas. As always we have a strong commitment to the community and have completed over 1000 community service hours this year. We are presently looking forward to participating in several other service events such as serving Christmas dinner to the homeless, Adopt-a-Highway, Project Share, and elderly assistance in the community.

Resounding Waves

It's been quite a year for the band. With limited time for us to practice as a whole, we were unable to perfect our half time show. That didn't stop us from playing our hearts out in the stands though. We had some fun new songs to play this year, like Watermelon Man, Tonight, and Joshua.

Thanks to the dedication of Mr. Baggett, we've done well. It made the season better for everyone when he took time after school to help the students just learning instruments. We have been working very hard practicing the music for our annual Christmas concert. We hope all of our hard work will show.

Walking on Water

The OHS Marching Band has had another exciting season of music and mayhem. With the talent of the group increasing, the band sounds better than ever under the direction of Mr. Alton Baggett.

Each new member is quickly immersed into the band's activities, and their spirit grows because of it. But with each new member came a new set of challenges. Section leaders were called upon to rehearse with inexperienced musicians. Every moment we could get was used to work on the fundamentals of marching. But our major problem was getting all members together at one time. Again there were two different band periods, and after school rehersals were never complete. But nevertheless we got it together with as much enthusiasm as it took to put it together.

The music chosen was a combination of new tunes and perennial favorites (Sweet Georgia Brown, Joshua, Soul Finger, Watermelon Man, Be-bop-alula, and Onward Oxford). We performed many songs, but the one most enjoyed by the crowd was Louie, Louie. To make it more crowd pleasing the cheerleaders collaborated a new cheer to go with it.

As participant, officer, and coordinator of the band, I am proud to have worked with the OHS marching band, and I know that I have grown because of it. Thanks for everything!! -Tamar Apkarian

Songs of the Sea

Chorus this year has been fun. Although we're not the best, we have a lot of fun trying. In class, Mr. Baggett has taught us a bunch of songs from many different languages. There were some, of course, in English, two in Spanish, two in Hebrew, and one gregorian chant.

The chorus is made up of a lot of eighth, ninth, and tenth graders, and also a few upperclassmen. We have come a long way in the past couple years; performing at graduation last year and for the school this year.

Chorus is my favorite class and Mr. Baggett is my favorite teacher. If you're looking for a fun class to liven up your day, you should take chorus. Remember! No homework! -Lane Hammond

Emotion in the Ocean

Every year the Oxford High School presents a fall play to the community. This year's production, Get Bill Shakespeare Off the Stage. This play consists of an ensemble cast made up mostly of our period six theater class. This is a coincidence seeing that the actual play is about a group of theater students revolting against their new drama teacher (no offense Mr. Bagget). The entire cast and crew put their all into this production and it proved to be well worth the effort. The show was a complete success and next year will be even better. -Carolyn Bates

Pirates Cove

It's been fifteen years since Oxford High School has seen a school store. In 1999 custodian Vincent Fallavallita has turned what was once a big hole in a wall, into what is now known as Pirates Cove. Opened and ran by Sarah Hanley, Matt Maliff and Josh Boyda. Students from Mr. Mullan's small business management class have a task ahead of them. This store in association with Wal-Mart, which also supplies the goods for the store, sells items ranging from pens and pencils, to OHS gear and athletic socks. Grand opening of the store , April 9, was accompained by the super intendent all the way down to Wal-Mart personel. The future has much to bring. Right now there is a little side room were they sell tickets for all school activities, such as for school dances. This room next year will be a school bank, including an ATM. For now we just give change.

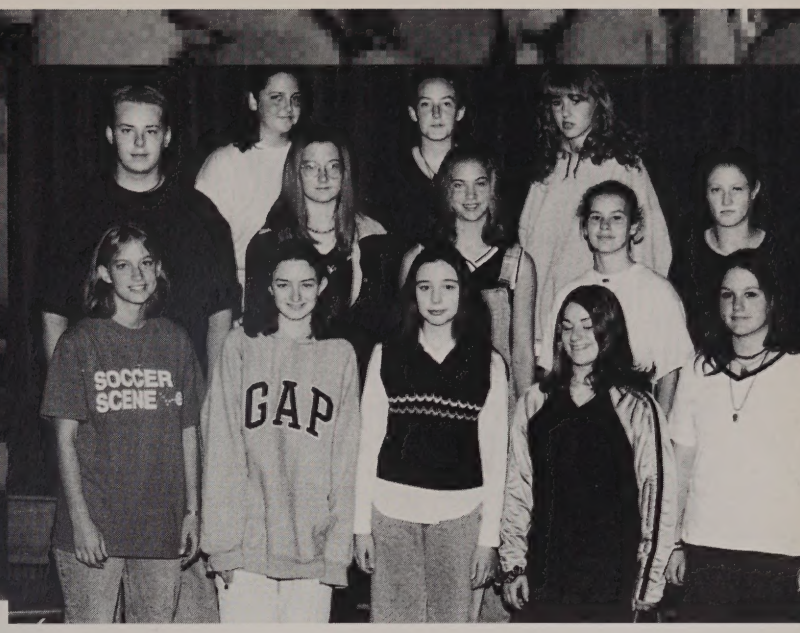
An Eye For News



The second year of the news paper has been very exciting but challenging for the staff. Due to a financial situation this year, the Ledger was only able to publish three issues. Another draw back was that our other editor moved at the beginning of the year. Even though we have an exceptional staff, we are always looking for new people and contributions.

Our hope is that we provide a student forum in our school where students can freely express their opinions and ideas. With luck the Ledger will continue to flourish in our school for years to come. We hope that our newspaper has been a source of school pride and enjoyment for all who read it.

The Ledger staff would like to thank our wonderful adviser, Mrs. Casavant. Her hard work and dedication to the paper makes everything happen. Despite her own busy schedule she puts 25 hours per paper. Once again a heart felt thanks goes to the staff of the ledger from me to you!

The Swing Set

The OHS golf team, led by Dan Clem and Captain Chris O'Connor, finished off the season with a 7-9-2 record, but don't let a mediocre record fool you. This season was a huge step in the right direction. Everyone put forth his best effort and we kept our spirit throughout the entire season. We reached some major milestones this year. Chris O'Connor tied the course record at Hemlock Ridge against Tantasqua. Dan Clem's game seemed to metamorphose almost overnight. We worked together and stayed positive and goal-driven. Every victory was a thrill for us, and we stayed competitive against even the toughest teams, beating Northbridge for the first time in history. We're a young team dedicated to improvement, and with that said we're only going to get better. Mrs. Geenty deserves special recognition for all her hard work and dedication to the team. She's been an extraordinary coach and deserves it all. Something tells me next year that's exactly what she's going to get!

Puttin' on the Blitz

Oxford High School's Football team had some big shoes to fill. After losing a large senior class of players, who led the team to a victory in the Division 3A Super Bowl, many young players had to come and step it up this year. With only four seniors, and returning starters, we set out on our season. We suffered two early losses in the beginning of the season, then quarterback, Steve Rosenlund, tailback, Eric Talley, receiver, Ryan Hopkins, and captain wide receiver, Rob Phillipo, sparked the offense and strong defensive play led by captain Jay Firman, Mike Escolas, and Sam Lempicki, helped us win five straight games. The Pirates lost a tough one against Bartlett on Halloween, and another against Southbridge. We came back strong and beat Grafton, but lost a heartbreaker on Thanksgiving against our rivals, Auburn. This season gave a lot of experience to young players that will help have a great season next year. I'd like to say thanks to all of the guys for making this a fun year, and thanks to the coaches for taking the time with us and coaching us through a very good season. -Joe Cormier

Offensive Conduct

Our Jv football team was lead by Co-captains Josh Banach and Ken Ratcliffe. We ended the season with a record of 5 wins, 3 loses, and 2 ties.

The key players for JV an offense and defense were Don Paldino, Josh Banach, Dave Layte, Jesse Millet, Dan McGinty, Phil Dixon, and Mike Gagnon.

There are several games that will not be forgotten for many years to come. Two of the games that are memorable are the Grafton game, Grafton had the ball and Dan McGinty broke through the line and slammed the QB while he was trying to pass, the pass was picked off by Mike Gagnon and ran back for a touchdown. The other game is the Tantasqua game when QB Ken Ratcliffe connected a pass with TE Brian Wells, who was being chased down by four Tantasqua Indians, when Phil Dixon bombarded them to give Brian a touch down.

We would like to credit RB Josh Banach for taking dummy hits for QB Ken Ratcliffe, kicker Don Paldino for kicking the David Prouty FG without a kicking block and Dave Layte for his running, blocking, and tackling. The JV team would like to thank the coaches for their time and effort given to us. It was a fun and exciting year. -Mike Gagnon

First Down

The team did not have a great record, but we did have a lot of heart. We never gave up no matter what. Most games we were behind early but we fought to the end. Our offence had a balanced attack against opposing defenders. The offence was lead by quarterback Corey Hetherman, and the running games of Larry Smith and Justin Hawkes. Ricky Barber and Tom Hassett caught the majority of the passes. The offense line was lead by the blocking of Sean Bergeron. We had a strong defense this year. The defensive line was lead by Rob McRell and Pat Buccico. The linebackers were lead by Sean Bergeron and Jared Mercadante. The secondary lead by safety Corey Hetherman. We all had fun this year even though there was room for improvement. We would like to wish next year's team good luck. -Corey Hetherman and Larry Smith

Outstanding in Their Field

With an overall record of 14-4-1 and an undefeated SWCL record (10-0), our team made a strong effort all the way to the District Semifinals. Our first challenge was to unite the team by climbing Mount Monadnock in the beginning of the season. Once we reached the top, Coach Canty gave each of us a victory warrior necklace that would guide us through our season. During the regular season, we had fun practices and a lot of laughs. By the time Districts came and we lost to Auburn in the Semi-final game, it was especially hard because we all had become so close. The Seniors on our team had a bond with the other players that will last a lifetime and we think that we speak for all of them when we say: K-7 and OGV Represents Forever! -Sara Placzek, Jamie Mayer, and Ruth Mazeika

This year was a great season for us! There was some getting use to our new coach, Coach Langevin, but we all adapted to her and her new ways pretty well. We lost our first game of the season but then we got things together, had fun, and came out with a winning season. Our record was 11-2-3. We were also the best team for J.V.'s in the county! Good Job Junior Varsity. - Bekka Hopkins

First and foremost, we would like to thank Mr. Boucher for an interesting and unforgettable season. Although he is a great coach, our record did not reflect it. We lost players at a rapid pace to injury or infractions on the field. All the players who were left were at a disadvantage, but it never kept them from playing their best. To the players and coach, who gave it their all and never quit, we would like to thank you and wish you luck in your season to come. -Tom Domack and Jon Hill

Net Moves

The Junior Varsity Boys soccer season was a learning experience. The team consisted of eighth graders, freshmen, and a few sophomores. They only won one game and lost the rest, but got better at working as a team. It was our first year playing together for the school, so winning one game was a big accomplishment. They will be more experienced next year and will have the ability of playing as a successful team.

Sticking to it

The varsity field hockey team had a rough season this year. Their overall record was 2-?-2. We were very lucky this year to have a lot of new players. They had the first Junior varsity team in 3 years. This season was a lot of fun for all of us. Even though are record was not great we improved over game in many ways. This years team was led by captains Kristy Roderick, Leanne Cutler, Nicole White, and Kristina Kimball. The seniors would like to wish good luck to next years team.

Over the Boundaries

Junior varsity field hockey is great! We had fun although this is the first time in two years that Oxford High School has had a JV field hockey team. We had a lot of first time players. We didn't have a winning season, but hopefully we will improve, because our players will become more experienced. They all did a great job. I hope we all get to play together again. - Ivie Ekhorutomwen

Keeping Pace

The cross country team experienced what our coach, George Shattuck, would call a "growing season". Though our changes may not have occurred so much in the individual scene, we grew closer and closer as a whole. The girls' team has undergone a complete transformation from an organization of runners to a tightly knit group of friends. We may not have had a winning season, but every moment was nothing short of hysterical. Whether it was singing a song or having a strange conversation about johnny's, our meets and practices were always filled with laughs. If these changes are any sign of what's to come, I'm sure next year will be a blast! Keep it up girls!

In the Nick of Time

The boys' Cross-Country season was a roller coaster ride. Plagued by injuries to Freshmen phenom Tory Gisleson, Sprouting Sophomore Bill Bannon, and German exchange student Malte Weuste, the pirates finished with a respectable 9-7 record. The team was led by captains* Dan Moylan, Matt Medeiros, and Nick Daviau. The rest of the load was carried by Senior sensation George Shattuck and upcoming Junior Chris Mathurin. To add to the mix, the pirates had some surprising eighth grade talent consisting of Dru Daigheault, Tom Braham and Tim (weirdo) Hanlan. We'd like to thank all of our teammates for making last year a memorable one. We'd also like wish next year's team the best of luck.

Scream Team

Oxford High School has an excellent group of sixteen varsity cheerleaders. The squad consisted of four seniors, four juniors, five sophomores, and three freshmen. We are a hard-working, dedicated squad. With the help of our coach, Paula Hopkins, we pushed to achieve our goals. The beginning of the season showed some struggles. We practiced all through the summer on one of our half time routines, but we still couldn't attain perfection. In the end we perfected what we hadn't earlier and accomplished even more. We proved to ourselves that we could overcome all odds. We all showed a great deal of improvement throughout the season, and we know the future will only hold more. It is sad to say good-bye to the four seniors who will miss cheering, their coach, and their fellow cheerleaders very much. We wish the future squads the best of luck!! Thanks to the cheerleaders, the fans, the football team, and the students for making this season a great one!!!!!

Jumping For Joy

This season was successful in the aspect that we had fun all the time. Our coach, Paula Hopkins, was always open to new ideas as long as they were safe. In the last half or the season, we were down to eight spirited cheerleaders including captains Hilary Tobin, Amy Morse, and Corrine Noonan. Having such a small amount led to us becoming really close. Figuring out half-times and time-outs was alot easier than in past because we figured out something that everyone agreed on. This previous football season was hard to follow up because our stunts had come a long way with people that we ended up loosing. Many of us were cheering three seasons ago when the boys hit their ultimate low record. We were so proud to cheer for this season's emotional and successful basketball team!

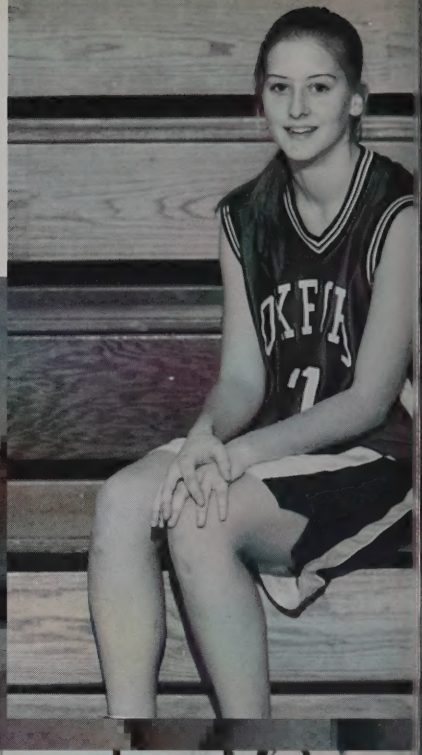
Steaming Hot Shots



The girls' basketball team finished the season 11-10. We had a great year with a young but talented team. We suffered a couple of hard losses but managed to pick it up in the end. We had a great coach to get us through this season, and we made it a lot farther than anyone expected us to. We ended up losing in the district quarterfinals against Lunenburg, but each person on this team worked hard and played their best to get us there. Plunging Down the Court

The Girls JV 1998-99 basketball had an excellent season. We ended the season with a 13-7 record. Our team was led by captians Kerry Blackwood and Amanda Maki. Our team worked extremely well together. We came a long way from when we started out at the beginning of the season. Everyone worked really hard. Our coaches, Danielle McCaffrey and Maureen Jones, taught and helped us a lot throughout the season. We all tried our best to accomplish our goal to win. We hope that next year we will improve and continue to be successful. -Amanda Maki

Rushing Rebounds

With five seniors returning, the OHS basketball had big expectations for the 98-99 season. Unfortunately due to conflicts with playing time and work we had to deal with the early departure of three seniors. To start the season, we notches two convincing victories. After suffering a disappointing loss to rival Leicester, the team went on a tear. Behind the hot hands of Steve Rosenlund and Dan Clem, the play making of Ryan Hopkins, high flying of Rob Phillipo, and brute strength of Aaron Charbonneau, we won 12 of 14 games, putting together two separate five game winning streaks in the process.

Finishing 14-3, we headed to the Clark Tournament, for the first time in ten years. We got our revenge against Leicester but lost in the semifinals to the eventual champs Quabbin. We then hosted the first district game in 15 years. There we made easy work of Hudson. We fell at the hands of Algonquin in the semifinals. The season was a great success, ending 16 and 5, we were one of the four best teams in Division 2. We'd like to thank the fans, our coaches, Jim Donnelly and Adam Radday, and everyone else that contributed to our success. On a personal note, I'd like to wish next year's squad the best of luck! -Nick Daviau

Smooth Moves

Our Jv Basketball team had a disappointing season. Our record was 2-15. The team captains were Mike Carbonneau and Jeff Polinski. We had a lot of help from the freshman players. Overall we had a bad season, but we learned a lot from Coach Radday. He taught us a lot at practice and we be came better as a whole team.

Running With the Current

The girls ended the season with the record of 5-5. During the season the team had its ups and downs. The girls worked very hard to accomplish their personal goals. The goals we set led us to satisfying wins and coming very close to beating our other competitors. A few of the girls made it as far as the State Championship Meet in Boston. All girls gave it their all and we would like to thank them for their hard work and dedication.

Chasing the Waves

This season was a very successful season. It started out very strong with the Seniors leading the way. Dondrae May finished a fantastic season in the 50 and 300, finishing in eighth place in the 50 at the State Qualifying Meet, Malte in the two mile lowering the school record by 19 seconds, Matt Gervais was very helpful placing in the 50 and 300 almost every week, Milton Morse in the 600 and mile relay, and Captain George Shattuck in the mile and mile Relay.

The Juniors were also strong with Captain Chris Mathurin in the 600 and mile relay, Dan Moylan in the 1000, Garrett Mercier and Brian Wells in the hurdles and high jump, and Captain Joel Daoust in everything from the 50 to 600 to the mile relay. Sophomores Bill Bannon in the mile and Eric Tally in the 50, 300 and long jump also helped the team with Eric making the state qualifying in the 50 and long jump. Freshman Joe Guillotte in the two mile and Justin Hawkes in everything under the 300 looks very promising as well as eighth grader Jimmy Small, Ian Griffin, and Doug Smits. -Chris Mathurin and Joel Daoust

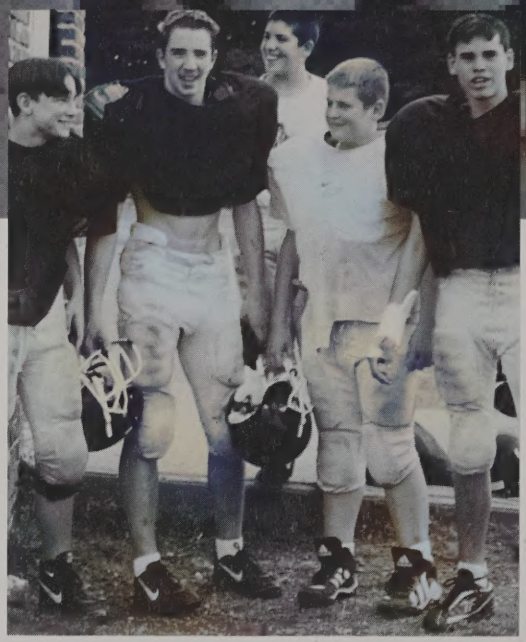
Behind the Scenes of Sports



What the spectators see are the official games we play, but the hard work of practice and drill takes place in the depths. Only the players know and understand what the attributes of true athletes are. Yet in the depths are also where we find the fun times we share before getting serious for practice. What's seen behind the scenes are the times we joke around with our friends. Here are some examples of what after-school athletics are like.

Sand Dollars

We started out as tiny barnacles floating on the ripples of the surface, seeking safe harbor on the rocks close to shore. Along the way we evolved into larger fish, braving the waves and venturing into the depths of the oceans.

Without the constant help and support of our family, friends and community, we would not have endured the waves that crash upon us now and then, as we explore the open seas seeking the shoreline of our destiny.

Dear Stephen,
Our wish for you... "May much happiness, health success and prosperity be yours throughout all time."

It calls me, beckoning, pleading
I yearn to place my fingers on the ivory keys
And play, play until the echoes of time are lost
In the memory of the song, a song so sweet
The birds envy it and I know
That when I return to the keys
They will wait for me, like an old friend

Our Precious Angel

Marion, you brought a multitude of things to our lives, to our family: your presence, so strong; your extremely infectious smile and your laughter. You played such an intricate part in our past and will continue on into our future.

Our lives have changed in your absence, because of your absence. We miss every little thing about you.

We look at your pictures daily and can't help but wonder where you are and what you do. I wonder if you look different, or have you remained the same? I try so hard to feel that you're OK, that you are in God's care and surrounded by love, peace and children. We pray that you are above all happy.

We thank you for sharing your life with us and want you to know that we love you with all our hearts and souls.

Your Loving Family,

To the Class of 1999:

Go placidly amid the noise and haste, and remember what peace there may be in silence. As far as possible without surrender be on good terms with all persons.

Speak your truth quietly and clearly; and listen to others, even the dull and the ignorant; they too have their story. ~Avoid loud and aggressive persons, they are vexations to the spirit. If you compare yourself with others, you may become vain and bitter; for always there will be greater and lesser persons than yourself. Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans. ~ Keep interested in your own career, however humble; it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time. Exercise caution in your business affairs for the world is full of trickery. But let this not blind you to what virtue there is; many persons strive for high ideals; and everywhere life is full of heroism. ~ Be yourself. Especially, do not feign affection. Neither be cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment it is perennial as the grass. ~ Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth. Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune. But do not distress yourself with imaginings. Many fears are born of fatigue and lonliness. Beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself. ~ You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees and the stars; you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should. ~ Therefore be at peace with God, whatever you conceive Him to be, and whatever your labors and aspirations, in the noisey confusion of life keep peace with your soul. ~ With all its sham, drudgery and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be careful. Strive to be happy. ~ ~

Waving Goodbye

As we partake in our journey in our journey across the ocean, we watch as the distant shores fade away. We realize we're not leaving anything behind, but using what we've learned to improve our future. Here are some thanks from the editors:

Shalyn Polinski for the dedication and for the time you've spent writing other stories. Nick Daviau for taking the time to write great stories, I give the most thanks to Mrs. Briody for putting up with me and helping me learn the value of teamwork and deadlines. You've managed to keep me together and organized. I'm going to miss you. I'd like to give thanks to the entire yearbook staff especially Jamie because she's managed to inspire me with ideas. She's also put in the time and effort needed to make this year's yearbook the best it could be. Warm thank you goes out to Mrs. Lilley, Mrs. Racicot and Mrs. Stone for letting me bother them with where people are at a certain period of the day. Lauren Baxter, thank you for all your help. You've been great, our little errand girl. Eric Olson, thank you for all the time and aggravation you've endured. What you did took a lot of work and I love you for it. Hilary, well what can I say? You have done a wonderful job on the cover and on your layouts. I appreciate all you have done and I'm proud to have gotten the chance to work with you. I think you're very talented. Katie Grondin thank you for all the work you've done with the faculty section and other sections. And a thank you goes out to all those teachers who let me miss their classes to meet our deadlines.– Jenni Bursell

I would like to thank Mrs. Briody, our advisor for her encouragement and great insight. She always lent the time she didn't have to answer all my questions. Thank you for being so patient with me. Thanks to Jenni Bursell and Hilary Tobin for their dedication and hard work in developing new and interesting ideas. Thanks for sticking together so we could get things done. We could not have done half the things we did without your inspiration and confidence. Thanks to Lauren Baxter for doing the endless tasks that cut the time in half. Thanks to Eric Olson for his hard work and for putting up with the computer. You made my stress seem funny. To Katie Grondin, Jill Odgren, Amanda Butler, the rest of the staff, and anyone who performed any task, thank you for taking the work off my shoulders. Yearbook was a rewarding experience that I'll never forget! – Jamie Mayer

I would like to thank the few students who took time after school to make their deadline on time. The businesses who decided to advertise with us made the quality of our book possible. A special thanks goes to the parents who support us in everything we decide to be a part of. Jamie, thank you for using the pages as an artist's canvas. Your creativity is captured on every page. Jenni, thank you for organizing the most important elements of the yearbook. Your persistence got us where we are today. Mrs. Briody, it's hard to show appreciation in such a way that you haven't heard it before! Thank you for giving yourself to everyone so unselfishly. When you retire with your printmaking, I hope you are satisfied knowing the positive effect you've had in so many lives. – Hilary Tobin

As we wave goodbye to this school year, we look on to other shores to come. We hope all of you can come out of the depths to reach your dreams and never stop making waves in your life. – The Editors

Colophon

The 1999 edition of the Oxford High School Ravelins' was printed in offset lithography by Herff Jones Yearbooks, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

It was printed in a limited edition of 425 copies with 180 pages

The paper stock used throughout the book is 100lb. Bordeaux.

The cover is a 4-Color Litho. It is mounted on 120 point binder's board. Cover is a original painting by Hilary J. Tobin, Class of 1999

The endsheets are printed in HJ 286 Colonial Blue on White Vibratex stock.

The book is smyth-sewn in 16 page signatures, trimmed to 8 1/2 x 11.

In addition to the black ink used throughout the book, there are two flats of four color.

All captions are done in 8 point Times Roman. All body copy is done in 10, 12 or 14 point Helvetica. Headlines are in 72 point Koffee.

All pages were produced on PageMaster, a Herff Jones designed template that works with Adobe PageMaster®.

Photography by Casson-Foster Photographers, 123 Alburn Street, Auburn, Massachusetts.
